The News in Brief National and Collegiate

Washington — "More instead of less taxes" under the Democrats was the prediction of House Speaker Martin, Republican, Massachusetts. Martin told reporters that "if we are going to spend, we can't reduce taxes."

Santa Ana, Calif. — Forest fires have driven 1,500 persons from their homes in Silverado and Modjeska canyons. Fire has also advanced to within a half mile of the El Toro marine base.

Helena — The Montana supreme court declared state oleomargarine tax laws unconstitutional by a 4-1 vote yesterday. Chief Justice Hugh Adair said the laws were "intended to prohibit the sale by ordinary merchants in Montana."

U. of Washington — Just one detail keeps Washington students in the dark about their new electrical engineering building. No lights. The university power plant is so overloaded that it is unable to serve the engineering building as yet.

Washington — The activities of Representative Parnell Thomas, house spy-probe chairman, will be probed in return. A federal grand jury has indicted him on charges of receiving salary kickbacks from his office employees. The maximum sentence is 32 years in jail, $40,000 in fines, or both.

Nanking — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek termed peace negotiation rumors "Communist propaganda" and told his government to prepare for eight more years of war.

Washington — The conviction of Bennett E. Meyers, former army air force general, was upheld by the United States circuit court. Since March, Meyers has been biding his time in a District of Columbia jail serving a sentence of from 20 months to five years on a perjury charge.

Jacksonville, Fla. — It took a long time but Cecil Cozad's conscience finally caught up with him. Yesterday he got around to confessing the 23-year-old murder of his wife.

New York — In a radio address Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt advocated barring Southern Dixiecrats from membership in the Democratic party. She said "some of the most reactionary men in America" belonged to the states rights movement.

Paris — Followers of General De Gaulle have announced that they will use their new strength in the upper house of the French parliament to destroy the present government.

U. of Oregon — Heels were in order for Oregon women who attended Saturday's Washington game in Seattle. Whether the order referred to dates or shoes was not specified.

Paris — Albania, Yugoslavia, and Bulgaria were condemned for violating the UN charter by the political committee yesterday. They are accused of aiding Communist forces in revolt against the Greek government.

Play Periods Announced for Prefab Kids

Supervised play periods on Sunday for children of the row houses, prefabs, and trailers, have been established, the children's recreation committee announced today.

The play area is at the community center and the children are divided into three age groups in charge of an adult supervisor. Periods are from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Children may come at any time during these two hours for the rest of autumn quarter.

Equipment has been donated by the MSU physical education department. At present there are volley balls and nets, baseballs and bats, and a tumbling net.

An average of 50 to 60 children attend the play periods. Every third week, hour-long movies are shown.

Anyone who wishes to volunteer for one Sunday afternoon during the winter or spring quarter can do so by leaving their name with Mrs. Martha Sherman, 29 Carbon.

Fall quarter volunteers to supervise the children are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Pollard, 5 Fergus; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Vralsted, 16 Chouteau; Mr. and Mrs. Theron W. Knapp, 40 Ravalli; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Chambers, 15 Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Noland E. Riley, 6 Dawson; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schommer, Prefab 19; and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kumpuris, 1 Flathead.

Also volunteering are Mesdames Jane Williams, 3 Fergus; Kay Fender, 13 Flathead; Delma Cunningham, 7 Carbon; J. M. Larsen, 7 Ravalli; Melvin Wren, 17 Ravalli; Charles Zadra, 8 Dawson; Donald R. Rebal, 17 Custer; Shirley Mahan, Prefab 9; Herb Hunter, Trailer 5; Dorothy Mitchell, Prefab 11; Pat Sherlock, Trailer 15; Dorothy Wright, 5 Gallatin; Mildred Yuhas, 33 Carbon; W. F. Geyer, 13 Yellowstone; Mary Lanz, 41 Carbon; and Walter Noland, 7 Fergus.

Frosh Pics Start Today

A 10-day appointment period begins today for all freshmen who wish their pictures included in the 1949 Sentinel.

Sophomore sittings were to have been completed yesterday, but Catlin's studio has consented to extend the schedule and allow second-year students to finish appointments today, according to Doris Lund, Reserve, yearbook associate editor.

Because of the large number of freshmen students, their picture schedule has been divided to take care of those in the A-M bracket from today until Nov. 16. Freshmen students with names beginning with N-Z should have their pictures taken between Nov. 17 and Nov. 20, Miss Lund said.

Students pay $1.50 for four poses. Upon their selection, two prints are furnished the Sentinel by the studio to be used in both the class and living group sections of the yearbook.

MSU ALUMS WILL MEET AT GRIZZLY-INDIAN GAME

A get-together of MSU alumni in the Marines' Memorial club will follow the MSU-Stanford game in Palo Alto Saturday, according to Tannis Brown '47, who is now in San Francisco. A section will be reserved for Montanans at the game.

MSU co-ed, Monnie "Daisy Mae" Allen, Livingston, has captured her prey, Lynn "Li'l Abner" Lull, Helena, for the Dogpatch brawl this Saturday. Have you?

Central Board Allots $530 To Buy Piano

Ballots Sent For Prefabs

Ballots for the election of a new community council are being prepared for mailing to all occupants of the strip houses, prefabs, and trailers, Andy Arvish, strip house mayor, announced today.

Those whose names will appear on the ballots are Cliff Foy, 4 Custer; Dale Fallon, 9 Beaverhead; Jim Larson, 7 Ravalli; George Holmes, 15 Silver Bow; John Vickers, 1 Yellowstone; and Marvin Tschudin, Prefab 27.

According to Arvish, write-in candidates will be permitted. At the present time no date has been set for the election.

The election will be for three aldermen for the upper units; three for the old units; one for the trailers; and one for the prefabs.

As a result of action by Central board last night, a piano will soon be available to organizations of the University at their activities. The board appropriated $530 to purchase the piano for use by student groups.

Forest Paulson, Great Falls, was appointed chairman of the Outside Entertainment committee to succeed Dean Jellison, Kalispell, who resigned recently.

Central board also appropriated $80 to IRC to send five delegates to the Pacific Coast conference at Eugene, Ore. The group is associated through the PCC with other similar groups on the Pacific coast.

MUSIC CLUB MEETS

Committees for the Nite Club dance will be appointed tonight at the Music club meeting at 8:45 in Main hall auditorium. Plans for the new MSU songbook will also be discussed.

Grand Piano Shipped to Montana By Horseback in '70s Given Museum

A rosewood Chickering grand piano has been donated to the Museum and Northwest Historical collection, according to Mrs. Mary Elrod Ferguson, assistant director of the museum. It was given by Mrs. Helen McLeod Richards, Washington, D. C., and Walter McLeod, president of the Missoula Mercantile company.

The piano was brought to the West by horse freight in the early 1870's for A. B. Hammond, great-uncle of the donors, as a gift for his bride. For many years, the piano remained in the Hammond home on Front street, which later became the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McLeod, and which today is being used as the home of the administrator of the Memorial hospital and the nurses' home.

Hammond came to this country in 1867, organized the Missoula Mercantile company, the First National bank, the Big Blackfoot Mill company, and built the Bitterroot Valley and the Phillipsburg railways. He later moved to the Pacific coast where he became president of the Hammond Lumber company.

Director Grateful

"We are deeply grateful to Mrs. Richards and Mr. McLeod for making this contribution to the museum," said Mrs. Ferguson. "The beautifully carved legs on the piano and its illustrious trimming make it an historical piece worth preserving. We are preserving the heritage of an early pioneer through this donation. Already a wealth of pioneer donations have been given to our historical museum at MSU," she said.

The museum, which is in J308, is open on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 1 to 4 p.m., and on Tuesdays from 9 to 12 o'clock noon. This Wednesday it will be open from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Mrs. Ferguson said.

Newman Club Sets Banquet, Mixer

A Newman club banquet and social mixer is scheduled for Nov. 14, according to Harry Hermes, Springville, Ariz., president. The party will be at 6:30 p.m. at St. Anthony's parish hall. Hermes asks members interested in attending the dinner to contact the delegates in their living groups not later than Wednesday noon, Nov. 10. Delegates are Ed Rogan at South hall, Bob Duval at Jumbo, Hermes at Corbin, Mary Sweeney at New hall, and Joan Harrington at North.

Students living outside the halls may notify any of the delegates, Hermes said.

POLLS OPEN THURSDAY

Polls for freshman elections will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 and from 1 to 4 p.m. tomorrow in the Bitterroot room. Under the supervision of the Bearpaws, the freshmen will elect their class heads from the 10 students who are competing for the offices.

Activity cards must be presented at the polls, Dave Freeman, ASMSU elections chairman, announced.

ENGLISH PROF BUSY...

Miss Lucia B. Mirrieles Arranging Program for English Teachers National Convention; A. B. Guthrie Is Speaker at Chicago Meet

Miss Lucia B. Mirrieles, professor of English, has been busy the past few months arranging the program for the 38th annual convention of the National Council of Teachers of English in Chicago on Nov. 25 through 27.

She is vice-president of the organization which has over 12,000 members in the United States and member of the council's commission on English curriculum.

The English curriculum commission has 27 members working on a study of the needs of pupils in grade schools, high schools, and colleges. In addition to the commission members, there are over 300 other persons engaged in the study throughout the country.

Among the many speakers who will address the three day convention are: MSU's A. B. Guthrie, author of "The Big Sky;" Porter G. Perrin, author and anthologist from the University of Washington; Karl Shapiro, poet and Pulitzer prize winner; Alan Lomax, compiler of American folk songs and ballads; and James A. Michener, author of "Tales of the South Pacific" and 1948 Pulitzer prize winner.

Other Montanans on the convention program are: Sarah Vinke, Montana State college, Bozeman; Miss Esther Niebel, Bozeman high school; and Ruby MacDonell, Anaconda high school.

Editorially Speaking

BY PAUL A. HAWKINS

A little event last week up at the University of Manitoba brought back memories to a few students on the local campus. Of course Montana's over-exaggerated and under-publicized Phi Delta-Sigma Chi beer bust never got the attention the Canucks pulled on this one—a yearly event.

About 80 masked raiders invaded a girl's dorm up at Manitoba, dumped the girls, some sleeping in the nude, onto the floor and covered them with soap flakes and feathers. The raid was described as an annual Halloween stunt. A decoy squad lured the night watchman from his post while the other members of the raiding party crept into the dorm. They took up strategic positions near the beds of the sleeping girls and then began dumping them when one of the "raiders" whistled the signal.

Raw—Haw, Haw!

One of the co-eds confirmed reports that some of the girls were sleeping "sans everything." She said two girls next to her were sleeping raw.

"It all happened so quickly," she said, "I'm sure the boys didn't notice."

President A. H. Gillson, head man at the U of M said it was just a student prank and there was no truth to reports of a mass expulsion of the boys involved.

"It may have gone a touch too far in the matter of good taste," he said, "but it was a thing performed without malice or forethought."

This news comes to me with a chuckle. For awhile I was beginning to think college pranks had been forsaken on campuses. Administration officials in many colleges today seem to frown on such goings-on as impromptu rallies, parades, picnics, and have taken steps to control house functions. Many of them overlook the fact, however, that much of the choice conversation during Homecoming revolves around fond college memories of such functions—in which, incidentally, they partake themselves.

Drawing a Line

Of course, it must be taken into consideration that even the freshest freshman should know where to draw the line between pranks and absolute vandalism. The common contention seems to be that as long as we are wards of a college we should necessarily come under their jurisdiction, not only in school functions but all extra-curricular activities. Somewhere along the line someone has slipped badly. I think the main thing the parents of students are concerned with is moral degradation. Maybe my "golden rocking chair," which I have nick-named "Munnys," has kept me from observing things that aren't "fitten" but I think not because I've yet to see any demoralizing circumstances lurking about.

Rather than misunderstand me completely, let me say I'm not pushing a cause for upturned beds and sans-clothing sleeping habits. I do think, however, it should be realized that a basis of equilibrium has to exist between our regular university functions of education and so-called prankish, typical college attitudes. At present one of the main bones of contention is the interfraternity ban on beer in their houses for special functions—men only. Interfraternity has been saddled with this law now for one year, a law for which they are responsible themselves. The traditional mugs and tankards that adorn the mantles of the houses are dusty. Probably the main question is whether the houses that travel enmasse now to outlying public pubs for their traditional get-togethers and song fests are better off there or whether they are safer within their own home.

MSU Social Whirl

Dad was the guest of honor of the campus this week end and orchids were presented to the ladies at the "Dad's Day" game Saturday.

Living groups social activities for the week centered around exchange dinners, week-end house guests, visits by parents, initiations, and pin hangings.

Sigma Chi

Jim Young, field secretary, who hails from the University of Southern California was a house guest this week.

Sunday dinner guests were Mary Ann Hanson, Malta, and Pat Owens, Missoula. The Sigma Kappas were guests at an exchange dinner Wednesday evening.

Alpha Phi

Joanne Driscoll, Butte; Joanne Sauter, Cut Bank; and Betty Lou Malunet, Glasgow, were week-end guests at the house. Miss Malunet, a former MSU student, is taking her medical technology internship at St. Luke's hospital in Spokane.

Pat Payne, Billings, received a Sigma Chi pin Friday night from Tom Rademaker, Billings.

Merry Chaffin, Corvallis, was a Sunday dinner guest.

Phi Delta Theta

Dinner guests Tuesday evening were Dr. and Mrs. H. Rathman of Billings, who were here to visit their son, Frank. He was injured last week in a frosh football game.

Ralph Oswald '48, Plentywood, was a week-end visitor at the PDT house.

Margie Murphy, Butte, is wearing the "Sword and Shield" of Bob Burns, also of Butte.

Delta Gamma

Joyce Hardin and Bonita Hayes were dinner guests Tuesday evening. The quarterly birthday dinner was given Thursday.

Maxine Anderson, Fort Benton, and Suzanne Grove, Havre, received their "Golden Anchors" at an initiation ceremony Wednesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson visited "Max" this week end.

Monnie Allen, Livingston, and Rose Cotter, Townsend, attended the Social Worker conference in Helena this Monday and Tuesday.

The house was the scene of an informal gathering Saturday afternoon after the game. Royal Johnson, Butte, and Hal Anderson, Miles City, were dinner guests that evening.

Theta Chi

Capt. and Mrs. Ratliff and Sgt. and Mrs. Mueller chaperoned the Halloween fireside.

Miss Anne Platt was a dinner guest Monday evening.

Phil Helgeson, Forsyth, was a house guest of Bud Booth over the week end.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Danette Kelly, Butte, was initiated into the active chapter November 7.

Tuesday evening dinner guests were SAE's Don Woodside and Bob Hawkins. Mrs. Drury, Sigma Nu housemother, and Bill Smurr, Sacramento, Calif., were entertained at the house Sunday. Wednesday evening featured an exchange dinner with the Women's Co-op.

Week-end visitors included Shelia Flynn, Helena; Daisy Hunter, Whitefish; Miriam Seecamp, Long Island, N. Y.; Annie Trask, Billings, and Jane Cheadle, Helena.

Phi Sigma Kappa

Lacey White and Kevin Gallagher, Butte, were dinner guests last Thursday evening.

Seventy couples are expected at the annual pledge dinner-dance to be given in the Florentine gardens Friday, said Skip Mitchell, social

College of Pacific's Tigers shuffled through the gym on their way back to the field for the third quarter Saturday afternoon. Snow was falling and California-born Eddie LeBaron's solitary comment was an elongated, "Gee...eee."

But neither the weather nor the Grizzlies was enough to stop one of the outstanding independent teams in the West. The change from 87-degree mildness to Montana snow showed telling effects on the Tigers near the end of the first quarter. They began to fumble and their pass attack balked momentarily. The Tigers probably shuddered at the thought of training in that weather.

No, the Grizzlies, like the weather, didn't stop the Tigers, but in losing Montana looked the best of the season. For the first time this year, they tackled with near precision. For the first time since the Utah State game, they played the brand of ball of which they are capable. Even if the Grizzlies had continued to wax from where they left off last year, the Tigers would have been tough.

The Grizzly first-string line was devoid of a soft spot and the ends made sensational catches from Holding and O'Loughlin. By virtue of his shift to fullback to replace the injured Ole Hammerness, O'Loughlin got a chance to display his passing talents. Jack was a triple-threatener when he enrolled at the University.

LeBaron's performance is not a valid yardstick in determining his capabilities. Had the weather been warm, he would have been that much better. His hand-offs, particularly the delayed ones, were all they were cracked up to be. His passes were like those thrown by a human, and his 72-yard wind-propelled marathon punt brought down the house.

His defensive alertness enabled him to prove he's the Tiger's surest tackler. Probably the most impressive show he put on was evading tacklers behind the line and whipping bullet passes with the greatest of ease. But I'd venture to opine that his hand-offs on quick openers are no faster than Holding's and that as a punter, he's not much better than Malcolm.

By ye goldfishes, despite the fact that the weather was nice before the game, that the Grizzlies were playing one of their last home games, and above all, that a top team featuring a Lu-jack-compared Little all-American was to perform, a sizeable crowd failed to show.

Last year, townspeople and students cried in their beer about the small home schedule, so this year they are blessed with a five-game home menu. Saturday's paltry crowd seemed to be the empty response. From that showing, I frankly doubt that we deserve a decent home schedule. Missoulians have long ago manifested their preference to see the Golden Spartans in action. The student turnout, however, was nothing to stir alarm.

Forestry club will meet tonight at 7:30 in Forestry 106 according to Dave Lane, Deer Lodge, president.

Basket Boys Start Early

Working on fast breaks and defensive drills, the Grizzly basketball squad went into another week of pre-season practice.

Coach Jiggs Dahlberg has cut the squad down to 15 men and expects to enlist four more at the close of football season. At center Dahlberg has Bob Cope, Ralph Ripke, Bob Souhrada, and Gar Thorsrud; at the forward posts, Jim Graham, Lyle Grenager, Dan Marinkovich, Bob Patton, and Lou Rocheleau.

"One of our biggest problems," said Dahlberg, "is how we will replace Moses and Cheek in the guard positions." At present Dahlberg is grooming six hopefuls for the positions: Dick Carstensen, John Eaheart, Bob O'Conner,

Mann Honor Guest at Mortar Board Dinner

A banquet honoring Miss Erika Mann, convocation speaker, was sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, in the Mayflower room of the Florence hotel, Friday.

Those present were Dr. O. J. Hammen, Dr. J. Earl Miller, Dr. Maurine Clow, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Merriam, Professor Edmund Freeman, Mrs. Brenda Wilson, Mrs. Paul Gillespie, Mrs. J. A. McCain, Mrs. C. H. Clapp, Mrs. Lucille Armsby, Miss Ann Platt, and Miss Ruth Robinson.

George Scott, Burt Thompson, and Jim Weir.

Dahlberg declined to give any indication of prospects for the coming season, but remarked, "We have taken on a strenuous schedule facing such outstanding teams as WSC, Utah State, and Wyoming; those teams alone will make the season tough."

The Active Atoms football team of the Phi Sigs just scraped by the Pledge Plunderers of that house, in a game that lasted long enough, according to the actives (not long enough, according to the pledges). The game was played last Saturday afternoon near the Rockaway at Lolo.

The game was marked by non observance of rules and bawlin' and hollerin'.

The pledges coach was nowhere to be found. When last seen, he was

Texas Hot Shot

MSU's five-man rifle team took a shellacking from the Texas A&M squad in a comparative score meet Saturday.

Montana's team, composed of James Hansen, Kalispell; George Hoyem, Thompson Falls; John MacDonald, Missoula; Herbert Fisser, Sidney; and Charles Olson, Kalispell, scored a total of 1,772 points, while their southern rivals racked up a high 1,870, a margin of about 20 points per man.
